

Internet Safety for Parents/Caregivers;

A distant learning presentation to help families

In today's ever growing technological world, new trends and programs are developed to improve our lives. With this constant surge of new information and programs available, communication and the world is a click or text away. But with all these new advances, especially during this challenging time of distant learning and being online more then ever, come new concerns. Parents need to be aware of the technology their children are using and the trouble that can follow if safety rules are not in place.

Please join Scott Driscoll, president of Internet Safety Concepts LLC, on Monday May 18 at 10 AM (EST) for Internet Safety for Parents/Caregivers, an online presentation to help empower smart online choices and safety. This program is for parents/caregivers and adults only.

Topics covered will be:

Today's current apps and programs

Cyber bullying

Sexting/Texting

Social Networking, positives and negatives

On line gaming

How to protect kids from becoming victims

How families create "digital footprints"

This program is made possible through collaboration with the Connecticut Children's Alliance, Connecticut HART and Prevent Child Abuse Connecticut.
